About

I am interested in using design as a communication tool for displaying information and imagery, making it more visually interesting, dynamic and understandable. I possess a 'clean and professional' design style that is suited to many different mediums including broadcast, print and web.

I have completed successful graphics re-design projects for programmes such as, One News, Newshub, Story, Seven Sharp, Close Up, Te Karere and The Spinoff TV, which have involved the design of graphical elements and templates in order to enhance the information presented.

In 2011 I worked as a freelance Graphic Designer for Channel 4 News in London, known for its creative use of information graphics. My time at Channel 4 allowed me to broaden my skills in Cinema 4D and After Effects.

I have over ten years of commercial experience with Photoshop, Illustrator and After Effects, I also have good skills in Cinema 4D, Premiere and Flash, which I have applied to my commercial experience. In my spare time I enjoy working on personal design and illustration projects and always look for new ways to develop my creative skills. I recently completed the School of Motion's Explainer Camp and Cinema 4D Basecamp courses.
